

EASY CARE LAWN

The ongoing drought and water restrictions mean it's going to get harder to keep lawns looking lush and green.

One solution is new-generation synthetic turf which is proving to be a good lawn alternative throughout SA.

Hicks Instant Turf is a family business which is well known as a supplier of natural lawns and is specialising in high-quality Bonita Synthetic Grass.

"Ideally, we'd all like to hang onto our green patch of lawn, and with the correct planning it's possible, but synthetic has placed itself firmly in the market and gives frustrated consumers a viable option," Rosemary Hicks says.

Rosemary says an increasing number of people are seeking the practical and aesthetic qualities that synthetic grass offers.

"It softens hard surfaces, unlike pavers, cement and bare ground, but importantly it is permeable," she says.

Rosemary says synthetic grass is versatile and can be used year round.

"There are no more muddy or dry and bare patches and it has the appealing qualities of needing no mowing, no watering, no weed and pest control and no fertilising, ever," she says.

Bonita Synthetic Grass, made in Australia from 100 per cent Australian raw materials, is appearing throughout SA in clubs, schools, colleges, sporting arenas, hotels and resorts and, equally, in family homes.

St Thomas Primary School, at Goodwood, recently used Bonita for its oval to help save water and also to solve the problem of natural grass which never grew well on their site.

Hicks Instant Turf's head office and main display is at Para Hills West and showcases the three best natural grass choices for SA and eight synthetic grasses.
